

MASTER CLASS WITH DR. ERIC FUNG

Saturday, October 19, 2024
10:00 am-1:30 pm
Foy Hall, Moravian University

Greetings teachers:

We are delighted to announce that the LVMTA received the PMTA Matching LA grant to allow us to present a masterclass with a wonderful pianist and pedagogue, Dr. Eric Fung. His bio is attached. Dr. Fung is a Professor of Music at Lebanon Valley College, so if you attend the Dorothy Sutton State Festival, you will see him again! He will be working in segments of approximately 20-30 minutes each with late intermediate to advanced students. One or two pieces should be about 10-15 minutes in total length and the difficulty level should be late intermediate to advanced (i.e. Bach Preludes and Fugues, Beethoven Sonatas, except Op. 49, Mozart Sonatas, except K. 545 and appropriate Romantic and Contemporary literature ). If you have questions regarding appropriate repertoire please contact Darlene Ziegler, dzstudio@ptd.net. We will be advertising this masterclass on the PMTA sponsorship page. We encourage all students and teachers to attend, you will definitely benefit from the learning experience from being in the audience!

One student per teacher may sign up, however if not enough sign up I will be looking for more students (so it will be helpful if you list 2 students). We are hoping for a variety of periods of music. If the committee cannot decide on the 6 students, we will defer to Dr. Fung for his final selections. There will be a half an hour lunch break from 12:00-12:30. We will be sending out a lunch signup sheet (probably from Dave's Deli), if you would like to sit in the lobby and have your lunch!
